

NAME _____

DATE _____

EXCLAMATORY SENTENCES

An exclamatory sentence shows strong feeling. It helps to express love, anger, surprise happiness and other emotions. It ends with an exclamation mark (!)

An exclamatory sentence must have a subject.

An imperative sentence need not require a subject.

Examine the following sentences. Bubble the circles of the imperative sentences in red and exclamation sentences in green color.

1. You must not go out.

It is snowing heavily!

2. I love you mom!

You should not hate others.

3. Remove the air from the tyre.

The car has a flat tyre!

4. Leave your shoes here.

Your shoes are amazing!